RETURNED HOME.

Dr. M. B. Shipp Surrenders Him self to Marshal Dyer Yesterday.

Dr. M. B. Shipp, after filling a threevears mission in England, during which time he labored in London, has returned home. It was understood that there was an indictment against the gentleman for unlawful cohabitation, and yesterday morning he appear d at the office of Marshal Dyer and surrendered himself. His bonds were fixed at $1,000, and A. McRae and M. A. Wo l-ley became his sureties. He evidently desires to give Uncle Sam as little trouble as possible. During his absence abroad, Dr. Shipp has had a most interesting and valuable experience. He was once invited by a temperance organization known as the "Sous of was once lawited by a temperance or-ganization known as the "Sons of Phomix" to deliver a lecture, and com-p'i d. The gentleman speaks in high terms of the liberal and respectful treat-ment accorded to him, but, of course, is glad to reach home again. He is looking and feeling well.

Baseball To-day. The game to-day between the Ogdens

BARRY AND FAY drew a very geod audience to the Theatre last night-for summer audience. The galleries, who remembered the Irish comedians with tender recollection, were out in force and kept up the encores to such an extent that it was 11 30 before the final curtain was drawn. McKenua's Flirtation is the most arrant nonsense, and probably Barry and Fay know it, for they have bolstered it up with a number of pretty girls, good singers and ber of pretty girls, good singers and specialty men, who do sime dressing, dance some, and sing some top call sings, much af er the order of the Hoytian school of the drama. The lisdy who plays Ryn's wife is particularly winsome, and has a very good voice. The four girls and the two gentlemen received so many encores for their "Proper bing to Do that they became quite non-plussed, and one of the gentlemen took to extemporting and he ground out some of the saddest s'uff it has been our lot to listen to. Barry & Fay, as the fat and lean Irishmen, kept the house in an uproar. They are both undenishly clever comedians of the Irish school, though we do not think McKenna's Flirtation affords them an equal chance with their other skit. They appear for the last time to night.

The management sprung a new innovation last night in the shape of polite boys and glasses of ice water—one that is sure to be greatly appreciated.

The Coming Rush.—There is quite a theatrical colony in Salt Lake at present, made up first of Abe Leavitt, who comes ahead of the notes Rentz-Sanley femenine minstels; Mr. Rust, who represents Salsbury's Troubsdours; and Mr. Wirkham, who comes in the interacts of "Three Wives to One Hustand."

All these gentlemen are accompanied by their wives. Beside these, Mission to Besudet. Bandman's leading lany is here for a weeks stay on her return from the Crast. Andy Brixen has captured the colony at the Clift. specialty men, who do some dressing.
